

ALLISON HARRINGTON, AICP, MCIP, RPP

project manager/planner

Allison specializes in urban design and waterfront planning. She has been involved in all aspects of plan development, from project initiation to implementation. As project manager, Allison has worked with communities that range in size from a small hamlet to a large metropolis. With a background in architecture and architectural history and experience in a private engineering firm, Allison uses her design expertise and understanding to draw out and clearly communicate community objectives and opportunities. Allison combines her research, writing and design skills to prepare in-depth, high quality presentations and documents for a variety of projects including waterfront plans, urban design plans, design guidelines, downtown strategic plans, corridor management plans and comprehensive plans.
